PROJECT REPORT GUIDELINES

PART A: GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Formatting Requirements (Mandatory)

- Font: Times New Roman
- Font Size:
  - Headings: 14–16 pt (Bold)
  - Body Text: 12 pt
- Line Spacing: 1.5
- Margins: 1 inch on all sides
- Alignment: Justified
- Page Numbering: Bottom center
- Paper Size: A4
- Binding: Hard bound / spiral bound
- Submission Format: Printed copy + PDF

Report Length

- Minimum: 50 pages
- Recommended: 60–80 pages
- Excluding: Certificates, references, appendix

Writing Standards

- Use formal academic language
- Avoid grammatical errors and informal tone
- Maintain logical flow and coherence
- Avoid plagiarism (strict action if detected)
- Include figures, tables, graphs, and diagrams wherever applicable

Mandatory Components of a Project

Every report must clearly demonstrate:

- Problem definition
- Literature support
- Methodology/design
- Implementation
- Results and analysis
- Conclusion and future work

PART B: STRUCTURE OF PROJECT REPORT

1. Title Page

Must Include:

- University name and logo
- Department name
- Title of the project
- Degree for which submitted
- Student name(s) with PRN
- Guide name(s)
- Academic session

2. Certificate

- Issued by department
- Signed by:
  - Project Guide
  - Head of Department
  - Dean

3. Declaration

- Statement confirming originality of work
- Must be signed by student(s)

4. Acknowledgement

- Recognition of contributions from:
  - Guide
  - Faculty
  - Institution
  - Organization (if applicable)

5. Abstract

Length:

- 150–300 words

Must Cover:

- Problem statement
- Objective of project
- Method/approach used

- Key results
- Conclusion

6. Table of Contents

- List all chapters, sections, and subsections
- Include page numbers

7. List of Figures

- All diagrams, graphs, and images

8. List of Tables

- All tables used in report

MAIN CONTENT (CHAPTERS)

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

Must Include:

- Background of the problem
- Importance and relevance
- Problem statement
- Objectives of the project
- Scope of the project

CHAPTER 2: LITERATURE REVIEW

Requirements:

- Minimum 5–10 research papers/articles
- Summary of existing work
- Comparative analysis
- Identification of research gap

CHAPTER 3: SYSTEM ANALYSIS

Include:

3.1 Existing System

- Description of current approaches

3.2 Limitations of Existing System

- Technical and practical limitations

3.3 Proposed System

- Overview of your solution

CHAPTER 4: SYSTEM DESIGN

Must Include:

- System architecture diagram
- Data flow diagram (DFD)
- Flowcharts
- Module design

CHAPTER 5: METHODOLOGY

Include:

- Step-by-step approach
- Algorithms or techniques used
- Mathematical model (if applicable)
- Workflow explanation

CHAPTER 6: IMPLEMENTATION

Must Include:

- Tools and technologies used
- Hardware and software requirements
- Dataset description (if applicable)
- Coding approach / modules
- Screenshots of implementation

CHAPTER 7: RESULTS AND DISCUSSION (CRITICAL SECTION)

Mandatory Components:

- Output results
- Performance metrics
- Tables and graphs
- Comparison (expected vs actual)

- Interpretation of results

CHAPTER 8: ADVANTAGES AND LIMITATIONS

Include:

- Benefits of proposed system
- Drawbacks or constraints

CHAPTER 9: CONCLUSION

Include:

- Summary of work
- Achievement of objectives
- Final outcomes

CHAPTER 10: FUTURE SCOPE

Include:

- Possible improvements
- Extensions of project
- Research directions

REFERENCES

Requirements:

- Minimum 8–15 references
- Use standard format (IEEE preferred)
- Include:
    - Research papers
    - Books
    - Websites

APPENDIX

Include:

- Source code
- Additional screenshots
- Data samples
- Supporting documents

COMMON MISTAKES TO AVOID

- Missing results section
- Lack of implementation proof
- No diagrams or visuals
- Poor formatting
- Copy-paste content
- Incomplete references

SUBMISSION CHECKLIST

Before submission, ensure:

✓ Title page complete
✓ Certificates signed
✓ Abstract included
✓ Literature review added
✓ Diagrams included
✓ Results with graphs/screenshots
✓ References properly formatted
✓ PDF generated